a pond near Armour, Columbus county, January 24th, and J. W. Collins to whom the boy was bound until he became of age, is believed to have committed the crime. Immediately after Davis disappeared Collins left home and has not been heard of or seen since. A warrant for his arrest is in the hands of officers, and an effort is being made to have the Governor offer a reward for his arrest. The boy was killed by his neck being broken. His body was not found until yesterday. Suspicion rests strongly on Collins, who has been running an illief distillery, and it is believed that he murdered young Davis because he was afraid the boy knew too much about his unlawfulness. Collins is a middle-aged man and has a wife, but no children.

Fils wife professes total ignorance of the crime, and declares that she doesn't know the whereabouts of her husband. The murdered boy was an orphan.

TWO LADIES CREMATED.

Went Into Burning House to Save Some Articles.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jap. 31.—At Tony, a lively little hamlet in a remote section of Caswell county, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Surah A. Florence and her daugh-ter, Miss Bettie, were cremated in a fire which entirely destroyed their home. The fire was discovered at 1 o'clock, and then flames enveloped the house. The two la-dies were in the front yard. Both rushed back into the house in order to suve some prized treasures, and before they could be rescued the walls fell, entombing them alive.

The house burned to the ground, and their charred remains were found by neighbors. A box containing several hundred dollars in gold, untouched by the flames, was found near the bodies. Mrs. Florence was the mother of a prominent and wealthy merchant of Burlington, Alamance county.

FIVE CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

(RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 31.—The General Assembly of North Carolina is having bills offered for the regulation of all manner of industries and all grades of the animal creation, the latest being a bill by Representive Mockins, or Tyrrell county. It is a bill to protect travel on the public highways of Tyrrell county and makes it unluwful for any bee hive to be kept within less than fifty feet of a public road. The Judiciary Committee considered: the bill to-day and decided to recommend its passage.

NO EXTENSION.

public highways of Tyrrell county and makes it unlawful for any bee hive to be kept within less than fifty feet of a public road. The Judiciary Committee considered the bill to-day and decided to recommend its passage.

A hard fight was made to-day before the House Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns for a bill extending the corporate limits of the town of Monroe. Mr. William Hoath, of the Monroe Cotton Mill, made the fight shigle-handed against the bill, opposing a big delegation of citizens, who favored the extension, and succeeded in inducing the committee to report the bill unfavorably, with the Senator and the Representative from the county favoring the bill, too. The plea by Heath was that the extension would take in his mill and impose additional heavy taxes that the business could not hear, while he had been induced to locate there by ussurances of exemption from municipal taxes.

MUNICIPAL FIGHT.

There are now five candidates in the field to succeed A. M. Powell, as Mayor of Raleigh next May, and there is promise of still others. They are J. I. Johnson, J. S. Wayne, Frank Stronach, J. E. Pogue and Joe H. Weathers. Mayor Powell announced some time ago that he would not be a candidate for re-election, having already served three times.

The liquor question will figure prominently in the campaign this time, scall-rent being alvided between dispensary, prohibition and open saloons.

While the dispensary has been a big success financially, having yielded the time ago that he city and county a revenue of $50,000 the past year, it is realized that it is not a temperance institution at all, there being more intoxicants drank now than when there were open saloons.

The Judiciary Committee of the House decides to report unfavorably the bill being urged by the merchants of the State, making it a misdemeasure to obtain goods from merchants under promise to puly to at some future time out of wages to be received and then falls without good reason to fuffit the promise.
